COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION PLAN (CPP)

Introduction

Imagine the year 2030 and the different needs you, your parents, your children and neighbors will have. What kind of city do we as a community want Roswell to become by 2030? What real options do we have for becoming the city we envision? What steps will get us there?

During 2010 and 2011, the City of Roswell will update its Comprehensive Plan and wide reaching representative community involvement is needed to make the project a success. It's our shared future! This document explains the overall planning process and presents the plan for engaging citizens, business members and other stakeholders with varying interests and perspectives. At the end of the process, the City will have developed a 2030 Community Agenda. The Community Agenda expresses the City's vision, short- and long- term actions to achieve that vision, and the policy commitments to make this great City of Roswell even better over the next twenty years. Creating a great city takes decades of planning and investing, as we know from the wonderful historic, cultural and community amenities we enjoy about our City today.

Who and where are we today?

Where do we want to be?

How will we get there?

The City of Roswell was established February 16, 1854, as a small rural town. It has grown to one of the largest cities in Georgia and proudly retains its small town feel while providing first class amenities. This has been achieved through thoughtful planning, historic protection and a dedication to quality. Like many cities in Georgia, the City of Roswell has gone through and continues to undergo great transitions; the City is at point where a common vision generated with and through intensive citizen involvement is needed. Taking advantage of the need to update the Comprehensive Plan, there is the opportunity to actively engage the Roswell public in this process. As constituents, however, we all have a right and responsibility to have informed opinions, with facts and data to add to our experiences and our realities and make a strong, realistic 2030 plan of action. The Comprehensive Plan includes a Community Assessment document to arm community members with data as they join the public discussions and debates.

The City of Roswell invites the community to join your neighbors and recommend the best path to take toward our shared future.

This document, the Community Participation Plan, defines the main steps in the process and the various methods the City will use to develop community ownership of the effort. City Council reviews and approves the Participation Plan before it can be implemented.

City of Roswell Mission Statement

*We are a family oriented, safe and attractive community that respects the natural environment protects its historic character and celebrates its culture. We are Roswell... The best place to live in Georgia.

Strategic Goals

The City of Roswell currently has goals adopted that are incorporated into their annual report. These goals provide the orienting framework for this effort and will be incorporated, as appropriate into the plan:

I. Promote a Well Designed Community.

The City will identify and implement solutions which support and balance Roswell's livability. This will include evaluating former decisions and planning practices, including zoning, and providing a solid foundation for future planning efforts, policies and regulations.

II. Sustain and Protect the City's Resources.

The City will maintain and protect Roswell's resources including the City's infrastructure to meet the current and future needs of our community.

III. Emphasize a Responsive Delivery of Quality Services.

The City will take a proactive approach to improve services.

IV. Celebrate Our History, Culture, Heritage, & Character.

The City will provide opportunities to enjoy Roswell's distinct and unique quality of life.

Comprehensive Plan Components

As mentioned, the Comprehensive Plan includes a Community Assessment, a Community Agenda and this document, the Community Participation Plan (CPP). The methods for which the public will be engaged are outlined in the CPP, which includes a schedule of activities and benchmarks for the public to review.

The Community Assessment provides objective sets of data, trends, graphs and maps. The Community Assessment and Community Agenda will address these areas of planning:

- Land use
- Population
- Housing
- Economic Development
- Transportation
- Community Facilities
- Intergovernment Coordination
- Natural and Cultural Resources

Who are our neighbors?

What will our needs be by 2030?

Review Process

In Georgia, the Department of Community Affairs (DCA) determines the rules and regulations local governments must follow when preparing the Comprehensive Plan. Prior to the development of a Community Agenda, DCA requires that the local jurisdictions transmit the Community Participation Plan along with a Community Assessment for review. The Atlanta Regional Commission (ARC) is the regional arm of DCA that reviews these two documents to determine whether or not they are complete; upon this verification, ARC in turn transmits these documents to DCA. DCA conducts a report of findings and recommendation, and ARC issues the local government a final report that includes DCA's comments. Similarly, once the community agenda is prepared, ARC and DCA review the document for approval.

Structure of the Participation Process

The following chart shows the organizational structure and roles for the planning process.

A Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee (described further below) serves as a partner with the City in conducting outreach to inform the community on the Comprehensive Plan and in devising policy recommendations.

The City's Department of Community Development leads a Project Management Team that incorporates input from other department staff including Administration, Environmental/Public Works, Finance, Fire Department, Police Department, Recreation and Parks, and Transportation along with a consultant team with expertise in land use, public finance, transportation, infill and design controls. The plan will only be a success if all departments participate because the vision can only be achieved through cooperation. Each department has a uniquely important role to the communities overall success. The Community Development Department serves as Project Manager over the project.

The Council and Mayor hold ultimate responsibility and authority to approve and direct the implementation of the Comprehensive Plan documents, and, as the body that must deliberate budget constraints and competing priorities, may modify the recommendations that they receive.

Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee (CPAC)

The City Council appointed a Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee (CPAC) to advise the Staff and consulting team from a variety of stakeholder perspectives. The CPAC will convene regularly (up to 10 meetings), both prior to and in between the community meetings; Committee members attend community meetings in order to hear the input from the larger audience and assist in interpreting that information. The CPAC is tasked with reviewing consultant documentation, and providing feedback, guidance, and recommendations based on the community input into the vision for the City. The CPAC will also review the synthesis of community input and the proposed crafting of appropriate goals and policies as prepared by the consultant team. In addition to the core CPAC group there will be specialized subgroups for specific topics such as: Sustainability, Design, and Economic Development or other areas, such as Service Providers. Each subgroup will be appointed a CPAC member(s) who will report back to the CPAC. The City Staff introduced the CPAC team during the Transportation and Community Development Committee in May and the Mayor and City Council passed a formal resolution establishing the committee, outlining the date of the establishment and time frame of their authority on May 17, 2010. The following members were appointed to the Roswell CPAC:

- The State's requirements for comprehensive planning;
- Roles and responsibilities;
- Expectations;
- Potential methods to engage the public in the comprehensive planning process;
- Community participation techniques; and
- A schedule with potential locations for meetings.

Recommended List of Stakeholder Groups

Each person who lives, works or serves in Roswell has a stake in its success and plans for the future. To effectively manage a broad range of viewpoints, it will be effective to rely on existing networks and stakeholder groups. As part of targeted public outreach efforts, the Comprehensive Plan effort will engage existing networks including community organizations, businesses, service providers and small groups to serve as a source of input, information and recommendations. These groups will also be asked to distribute meeting notices, posters, and agendas to broader groups; they will also be tapped to provide feedback on how to improve the outreach process and shape the content of meetings and presentations so that they meet a variety of needs.

The City already has access to contact information (email, telephone and leadership) for a number of groups and businesses, as well as a series of Home Owner Associations (HOAs). The City considers it important for the stakeholder list to be a living document to allow for additional participants throughout the process. As such, the City will formalize the process for updating the stakeholders list through the monthly CPAC meeting, which reviews the list to ensure that a "snowball" method of expanding outreach will occur.

To ensure the broadest representation of the City, community meetings will also include an opportunity for participants to add stakeholder representative names and contact should participants identify gaps. Along with other documentation regarding public engagement activities and efforts, the final list of stakeholders will be attached in an Appendix of the final Comprehensive Plan documents when the Community Agenda is completed. The following list identifies potential stakeholders:
